The 1952 Yackety Yack

Sue Lindsey—Editor-in-Chief Bill Neely—Managing Editor Clay Johnson, Jr.—Business Manager

Published by the Students of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

To The Seven Hundred And Fifty:

Those constituting the decreased enrollment at the University of North Carolina due to the Korean "war" and selective service. Those whose collegiate world was invaded by the draft; those students who to avoid the draft chose voluntary enlistment; those prospective students who never came. For them there is no emotional "War to End All Wars" or "Fight to Save Democracy" slogan. To those who could have offered their energies and talents and wits to Carolina, to those who could have developed their potentialities through its civilian advantages, the 1952 edition of the Yackety Yack is dedicated.

with a meaning as different to each individual—past student, present student, future student; president, administrator, professor; merchant, villager, visitor; file clerk or ground keeper—as his contributions and experiences and memories at the University of North Carolina.

A Place Designed For Education:

the abstraction of ideals, aims, goals
 —actually consisting of a many-fold curriculum with a weekly grind of classes attended or cut, registration and Book Exchange lines, homework done or undone, textbooks, pencils, paper and study lamps burning late into the night.

A Cosmopolitan Student Body:

home may be Wilmington, Charlotte, Roxboro, Fuquay-Varina, Mt. Airy or Canton, North Carolina; Connecticut; Florida, or California; Japan or India or Thailand. And for reasons as varied as their backgrounds, students come; for social contacts, for athletics, husband hunting, to just pass away the time for a few years, but for some, from a rare innate desire to learn from the ever-increasing store of knowledge stashed away in library stacks, notes, and the minds of professors.

A Miniature State:

a self-governing student body composed of individuals selected by the voting students through hotly contested elections—replete with opposing political parties, posters, platforms, campaign speeches, and ballot boxes.

A Maze of Extra- curriculars:

a buzzing, fascinating world in which a student can pursue any inclination:
dramatics, publications, athletics, student government, religion, music, debating—
“Anything to keep from studying!”

A Merry-Go-

With an infinite variety of parties—beach, Hogan's Lake, rush, costume; Dances, beauty contests, derbies, carnivals; Dormitory open houses, sorority coffees; Fabulous football season, with ingenious floats for the

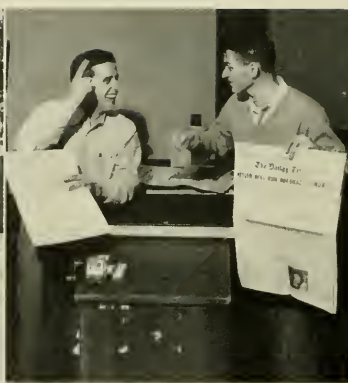

Round of Social Life:

"Beat Dook" parade, returning alumni and traffic jams and crowded restaurants and the famous "Carolina Spirit" noisily manifested in the cheering section at Kenan Stadium.

1952: The Year of . . .

the OYCI, the Obnoxious Y-Court Individual; the squabble over standard vs tabloid Daily Tar Heel; upsets in Student Government, with the Elections and Budget Bills declared unconstitutional and the abolition of Coed Senate; standstill due to labor strikes for two months on the million-dollars-plus Medical Foundation and the three School of Business Administration buildings and Cobb Dormitory; outlawry of fraternity hazing by the IFC; admission of graduate Negro students to the University; almost doubled enrollment in the Air Force and Naval ROTC units; and the arrival on campus of 27 freshmen coed nurses.

Whatever Its Meaning To The Individual,

it's still Carolina at Chapel Hill.
And as Tom Wolfe so aptly said:
it "beats every other town all 'hollow'."

The Alumni Association

Every former student of Carolina has the opportunity of keeping in touch with the University and with friends of campus days through the activities of the General

Alumni Association. It maintains offices in the Carolina Inn at Chapel Hill, publishes and mails regularly to dues-paying members The Alumni Review, keeps up to date lists of all former students, promotes alumni meetings in many communities where alumnae and alumni reside, sponsors reunions at Commencement, arranges homecomings, and otherwise seeks to link the past with the present for an even more fruitful future of Alma Mater.

In the mailing room of the Alumni Office are maintained address stencils for more than 45,000 living former students. At right, an issue of The Alumni Review is being prepared for the post office.

OFFICERS OF THE GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION—Alumni Secretary J. Maryon (Spike) Saunders, '25; 1951-52 President E. Earle Rives, '21, Greensboro; Past President J. Harold Lincherger, '26, Belmont; President-Elect R. Arthur Soaugh, Jr., '20, Winston-Salem.

Graduate and Professional Schools

Dean of the School

School of Pharmacy

After orientation the freshmen with the upperclassmen settled down to a year of labs and classes.

Football games, dances, Kappa Epsilon's tea for the new students, fraternity rushing, N. C. P. A. membership drive, picnic for the freshmen, and the Pharmacy Girls' Association annual Christmas party were the main events of the fall quarter.

The new year found us looking forward to a winter quarter filled with studies, basketball games, fraternity pledge dances, Senate meetings, and the N. C. P. A. Programs.

When spring came, the third and fourth year classes were busily planning a trip to Cincinnati, Detroit, and Kalamazoo to visit Merrell, Parke Davis, and Upjohn Laboratories. School elections were held. Pharmacy Week-end highlighted May with festivities beginning with a picnic Friday afternoon and ending with the Saturday night formal dance.

With June approaching, Howell Hall bustled with talk of exams, graduation, and the long awaited State Board Examination. Many left but carried with them pleasant memories of the four years spent in acquiring a good education in their chosen profession.

School of Dentistry

DR. JOHN C. BRAUER
Dean of the School

First Row: Maurice Richardson, President; Clarence Calcote, Vice-President • Second Row: William Calcote, Secretary; Robert Gainey, Treasurer.

The School of Dentistry is now in its second year of operation, with a total of 75 students, having admitted its second class in the fall of 1951. The first class will graduate in June 1954, the first in the history of North Carolina.

The new building is scheduled for completion in the late summer of 1952, to be ready for clinical dentel services for the incoming third year class.

Students of Dentistry receive part of their instruction in the Basic Science Departments of the School of Medicine, in the School of Public Health, and in the University Hospital. They are an integral part of the total health team.

"To carry on the activities of a modern law school, an adequate physical plant stands as a basic necessity."

These were the words issued in a report to the North Carolina General Assembly in 1948 on the need for expansion of the University School of Law by Former Dean of the Law School, Robert H. Wettach. In 1949 the General Assembly appropriated the necessary funds which would meet the needs cited by Dean Wettach, who in June of that year turned over the deanship to Henry Brandis, Jr. in order to devote full time to teaching.

This important undertaking was the fulfillment of a need which Dean Wettach had for a long time consistently and vigorously advocated. It was appropriate that his efforts should have been rewarded as he left the deanship.

The dedication of the new addition during the fall truly marked the beginning of the school's greatest period of service and growth. Long recognized for its excellent faculty, The University School of Law, now in its 107th year, has one of the finest physical plants in the South. The new auditorium solves a long standing problem by enabling The Law School to integrate more satisfactorily both its academic and extracurricular programs.

The Library has been expanded to house well over 100,000 volumes (prior facilities could adequately accommodate less than 50,000 of the school's books, the number of which is approaching 70,000). Quarters for the North Carolina Law Review and the Law School Association, as well as new typing rooms, seminar rooms, and ample reading facilities have been provided. Recreational benefits have not been overlooked in that the new addition has a student lounge fully equipped to provide the students with all the comforts of home during their few moments of relaxation.

The Law School Association, an organization consisting of all law school students, performs, through its elected representatives, a vital function in the affairs of the Law School. It is primarily interested in developing an extracurricular program of legal education in close co-operation with the Law School.

The Law School has its own student publication, the North Carolina Law Review published quarterly during the academic year. The highest scholastic honor attainable by a law student before his graduating year is to be selected for membership on the editorial board.

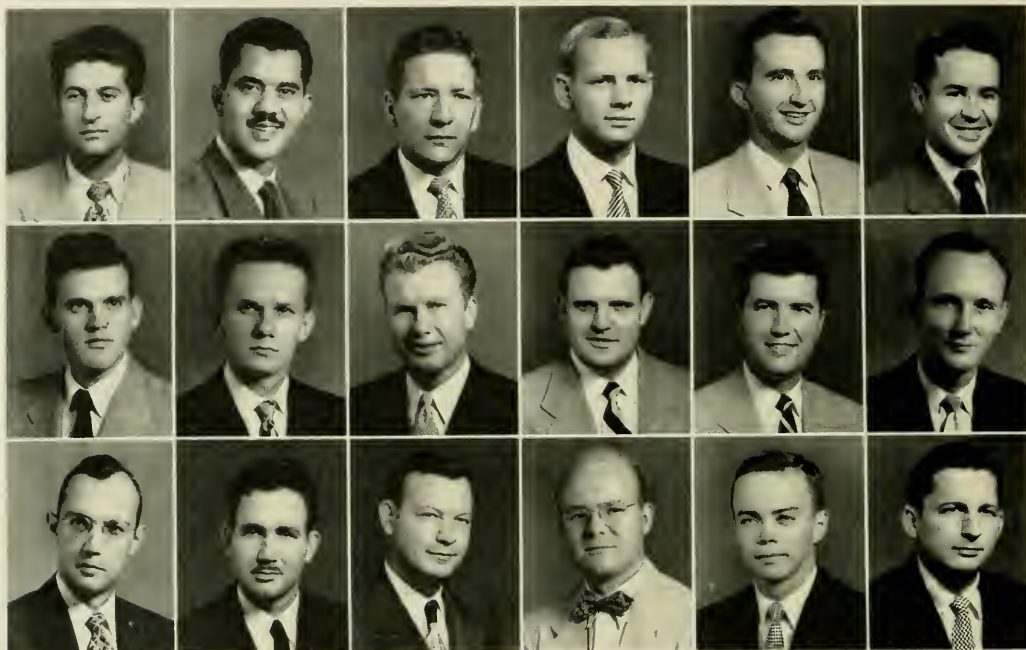

Under the leadership of Dean Brandis, The Law School stands on the threshold of a new era of progress.

The University's School of Public Health is one of the leaders among the ten accredited schools of public health in the nation. It has received national and international acclaim as a pathfinder in public health sciences and for its emphasis on the net worth of the public health team. The foresight of the administration and the faculty has cleared the way for even greater progress.

Many of those who have received training here are applying those principles in foreign countries with the objective of helping the peoples of all nations to help themselves.

While most of the student body is made up of North Carolinians, many others come from almost every state with a heavy representation from the southeastern regions. The presence of a number of students from foreign lands adds a cosmopolitan touch and affords opportunities for the healthy exchange of ideas.

Programs of study are designed to prepare professional public health people in the fields of Public Health Administration, Nutrition, Public Health Education, Maternal and Child Health, Public Health Nursing, Parasitology, Sanitary Engineering, Sanitary Science, and Statistics. The purpose of all study is to develop positive means of providing effective public health services to all people.

THE STUDENT ORGANIZATION

The Student Organization, composed of elected representatives from each department, plans the social calendar and attends to student business affairs.

The vigorous pursuit of academic and practical learning is tempered by occasional social events. Students, faculty, guests, and their families join in relaxation and good fellowship to the mutual advantage of all. Here again emphasis is placed upon association between people of different specialties. In addition to the activities of the entire student body of the School of Public Health, there are departmental affairs which serve to further promote social interests.

Since most of the students complete their graduate studies within twelve months, time is crowded with endless activities. One year is such a brief period in which to absorb much of that which the University and Chapel Hill have to offer. However, that same feverish pitch of movement joins the individual so closely with the spirit and traditions of his class, School, and the University that the ties endure and strengthen with time.

School of Medicine

The School of Medicine was established in 1879 under the direction of Dr. Thomas W. Harris. A course in theoretical and practical medicine was offered under the preceptorial system, but the plan was found impractical and abandoned in 1886. In 1890, a more orderly and logical arrangement of the subjects in the medical course having developed, it became possible for an institution without clinical facilities to offer instruction in the pre-clinical subjects, and the school was reopened with Dr. Richard H. Whitehead as Dean and Professor of Anatomy. Under his guidance it soon won recognition for thoroughness of instruction and excellence in scholarship and has since continued without interruption to its growth. At first the course covered only one year, but in 1896, the medical course having been extended in the better class of schools to four years, a two-year course was inaugurated. In 1900 the School of Medicine was incorporated as an integral part of the University and was reorganized to meet the requirements of the first two years of the full four-year course leading to the degree of Royster as Dean. After a few years of successful operation, the plan had to be abandoned for lack of financial support, and the clinical years were abandoned.

The School has been a member of the Association of American Medical Colleges since 1908 and is on the approved list of schools of basic medical sciences as published by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association.

Second-Year Medical Students

The curriculum is similar to that in the first two years of the better four-year medical schools in the country. It covers all the pre-clinical or laboratory subjects of the four-year course in medicine, as well as introductory clinical courses in the last two quarters of the second year. These courses in medicine, clinical diagnosis, clinical pathology, surgery and obstetrics serve to lessen the abruptness of the change from the laboratory situation to the clinical.

The School has an arrangement with Watts Hospital in Durham whereby the ward and dispensary patients are available for teaching purposes in the clinical courses. The clinical material at the State Hospital in Raleigh, the State Tubercular Sanatorium at Wilson and the patients in the Tri-County Health Clinic are available for teaching purposes.

First-Year Medical Students

The Whitehead Society is the time-honored organization of the Medical School. It was created in 1908 primarily through the idea of Dr. Erasmus H. Kloman, then a second year medical student, and named in honor of Dr. R. H. Whitehead, the first Dean of the School. All medical students are members of the society. The officers are the four members with the highest academic standing at the completion of the first year's work. The student medical society sponsors programs by eminent men in the profession as well as student participation programs complementary to those of local and state medical societies. Under the direction of the Whitehead Society Social Committee, various events are provided throughout the year. The orientation program and Whitehead dinner in the fall, the annual dance of the winter quarter, and the student-faculty day in the spring highlight these events.

Graduate School

Following the Civil War and during a part of the distressing period of Reconstruction, the doors of the University were closed. With the reopening of the institution in 1875, the authorities proceeded almost immediately to establish graduate study as a recognized University enterprise.

During the administration of President Venable (1900-1914), the Graduate School was organized in 1903 and the Deanship of the graduate department was created. The first Dean, Professor Charles Alphonso Smith, who was appointed in 1903, headed a committee of five members on graduate study. The President and the committee were concerned with the formulation and effective administration of high standards. Courses separate and distinct from those carrying undergraduate credit were organized and offered.

President Edward Kidder Graham, who was installed in office in 1894, enlarged and strengthened the faculty. He brought to the University many persons then and later active in scholarly production.

A Committee on the Graduate School, composed of five members, was appointed to consider plans and principles of reorganization. Under the forceful leadership of Dean Greenlaw, the committee reviewed the Graduate School as to its structure, requirements, accomplishments, and aims. In 1920, the committee of five was expanded into an Administrative Board of eight members, nominated by the Dean and appointed by the President. In addition to being an administrative body, the Board in effect became an executive council and, in a limited sense, a legislative council. As now organized, it is composed of twelve members, with the Dean as Chairman; four of the members represent the Division of the Humanities, four the Division of Social Science, and four the Division of Mathematics and Science.

As recommended by the Administrative Board, a Graduate Faculty was organized in 1920. The degrees offered under the supervision of the faculty are Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy. In addition there are professional graduate degrees in education, public health, regional planning, and social work.

Air Force ROTC

Now in its fifth year at the University of North Carolina, the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps has grown to be an important part of college life for many students. It is the purpose of the Air Force ROTC to select and train students, who possess the character, intelligence and sense of duty, to become Air Force officers and responsible citizens. The cadets learn the part the Air Force takes in National Defense and to perform the duties of junior Air Force officers. Having received this training the student will be of more value to himself and to the nation in times of peace or emergency.

The courses offered by the AFROTC have a general educational value affording colleges and universities a means for practical training in organization, leadership, and discipline which will be of value to the student in any career he may Academic credits toward degrees are allowed as in other departments, and an opportunity is given to outstanding students to accept commissions in the Regular Air Force. Other graduates are commissioned in the Air Force Reserve.

Carolina's success on the gridiron was practically nil during the 1951 season with the team compiling a record of two wins against eight losses, the worst a Snavelly-coached team has ever done. It was a young team, however, with freshmen appearing in varsity roles for the first time since World War II. The team showed brilliance at times but was never able to make these bright spots last. The schedule, too, was against the Tar Heels with teams such as Tennessee, Maryland, Texas, Wake Forest, Virginia, and Duke keeping the Carolina team down. There were individual stars in every game with freshmen Larry Parker and Connie Gravitte and soph Billy Williams alternating out of the tailback slot. Defensive end George Norris was another outstanding player and was recognized as an All-Southern end. With most of the team returning next fall and the fact that Coach Snavelly planned to convert to the T formation boosting Tar Heel interest, prospects for the coming season seem bright indeed.

The Tar Heels, who had been picked by most pre-season observers as ranking with Maryland at the top of the Southern Conference standings, justified all claims of their potency by trouncing the Wolfpack from State College 21-0 in the traditional season opener. Bud Carson and Bob Gantt were the running stars for Carolina with Carson providing the first touchdown on a 74-yard punt return. Bud Wallace tallied on a 17-yard reverse while fullback Bob White scored the final TD on a four-yard buck over the center.

The beginning of the end came in the season's second game when the Carolina pass defense was unable to stop the throwing of Georgia's Zeke Bratkowski. Through the fine work of the defensive line the Tar Heels held a half-time lead of 2-0, the safety coming when Darnell, Norris, and Maultsby chased the Bulldogs' Cook back into the end zone on an attempted pass play. The Georgians grabbed the lead in the third quarter and went into the fourth period with a 7-2 lead. Carolina scored twice in the final quarter but it wasn't enough to keep up with the Georgia attack. The Tar Heel scores came on a pass from Wissman to Newton and on a toss from Williams to Gaunt.

The Longhorns of Texas turned on the heat in the next game to trounce the traveling Tar Heels 45-20. Too many mistakes proved the Carolina downfall as the Longhorns capitalized on fumbles and intercepted passes for touchdowns. Carolina held a first quarter lead of 7-6 on a run by Weiss and a conversion by Abie Williams but Texas put the game away in the second period with three TD's. Bud Wallace took the Carolina scoring honors with two touchdowns, both on passes from tailback Frank Wissman.

Carolina evened up its record at 2-2 in the next game by dropping South Carolina 21-6 in what proved to be the final victory of the year. Parker and Billy Williams carried the offense against the Gamecocks with the Charlotte tailback passing for one score to end Bill Baker and setting up another with a 61-yard return of the kickoff opening the second half. Williams scored on the first play from scrimmage in the second half running the remaining 39 yards. Weiss scored the final points after Bruton had intercepted a Gamecock pass on the S. Maryland 11-Carolina 7

The long road down started at the midway mark of the season when Maryland, third ranked-nationally, dropped Carolina 14-7 at College Park in a game that could have easily gone the other way. The Tar Heels gave the undefeated Terps two first-half touchdowns while getting one themselves. It was all Carolina in the second half but Maryland held on each of five scoring chances that the Tar Heels had. John Gaylord was the outstanding runner for Carolina that day but the lone scoring honor went to alternate captain Bob Gantt who tallied in the first period on a four-yard reverse.

Wake Forest 39-Carolina 7

Wake Forest's up-and-down Deacons caught the Tar Heels in a let-down mood on the next Saturday and blasted out a 39-7 victory in their own Groves Stadium. It was a question of "do-no-wrong" for the Demon Deacs as they followed quarterback Dickie Davis to the easy victory. The Tar Heels didn't get a chance to get started and didn't cross the goal line until the fourth quarter when all chance of winning had vanished. Dick Weiss had this sole scoring distinction with a short line buck. Wallace's 43.5 punting average was the only bright spot in the humiliating defeat.

Tennessee 27-Carolina 0

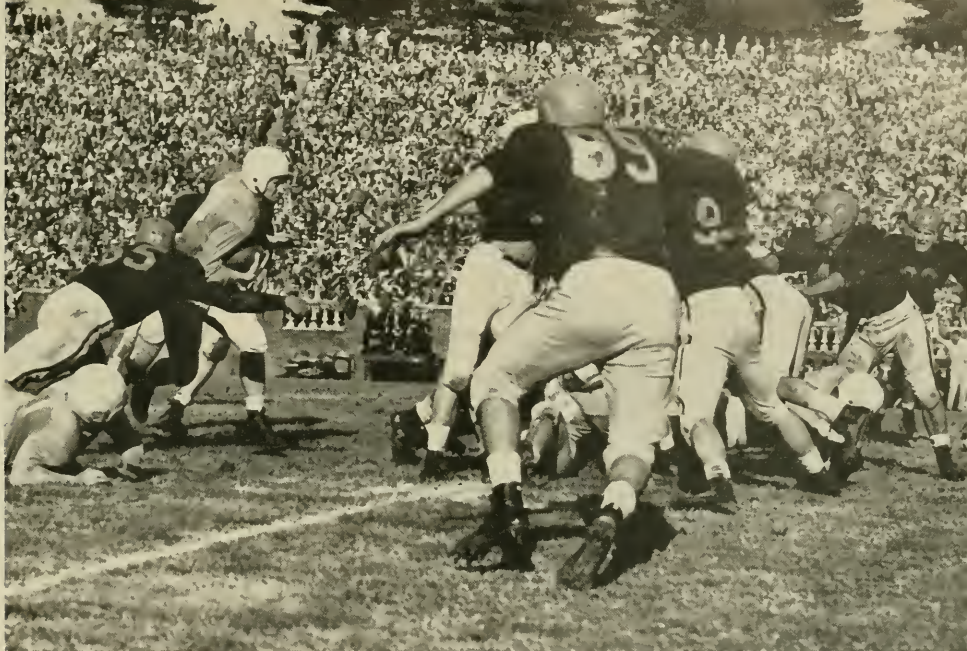

Tennessee, the nation's first-ranked team, showed Carolina fans just why it held that spot in the next game as it ground out a methodical 27-0 victory over the Tar Heels. Coach Bob Neyland brought 55 players from Knoxville and the depth was just too much for Carolina. The play of All-American Hank Lauricella was reminiscent of the days of Charlie Justice. The Vols star halfback scored twice and averaged 11 yards per try. The Tar Heels got inside the Tennessee 10-yard line twice the second half but were unable to get by the Volunteer line. The pure power exhibition of Tennessee is one that Carolina will find hard to forget.

Virginia 34-Carolina 14

It was a band of revengeful Tar Heels that traveled to Virginia, for the year before the Wahoos had trounced Carolina 44-13. It was the same old story again, however, and when the final gun sounded the Cavaliers had racked up their second straight win over Carolina by another basketball score of 34-14. Coach Snavelly tried Bud Wallace and Tom Adler at ends in the game to get the team moving but it was to no avail. The two Carolina scores were made after Virginia had run up its 34 points. Wissman and Weiss did the touchdown making for the Tar Heels.

Notre Dame 12 - Carolina 7

A spark that had been dormant the entire season came out like a groundhog on February 2 when Notre Dame made its first appearance in this area and Carolina almost posted victory number three before falling to the Irish 12-7. Not until a fourth-period drive ended on the Notre Dame four-yard line were the Tar Heels counted out of it. An unknown blocking back, Al Mueller, sparked the team to a near victory in the second half but the luck of the Irish held. With Tar Heel spirit at such a frenzy that Coach Snively had to ask for quiet, the team made its best bid for success of the season. Jack Cooke, who with Mueller was one of the top backs of the day, scored the Carolina TD on a pass from Gravitte in the third quarter.

The end finally came on Thanksgiving week-end when Duke's Blue Devils brought about the eighth loss of the season. After showing a little of the Notre Dame game spark in the third period and taking a 7-6 lead, the Tar Heels faltered and Duke went on to take the season's final victory. Gravitte passed to Wallace from the Duke 21 in the third quarter and Abie Williams made good on his conversion—his 16th success in 17 tries—to give Carolina its temporary lead. End George Norris made the final game a personal victory and was easily the top defensive man on the field.

Carolina's 1951-1952 cheerleaders brought a Tar Heel spirit that had been in mothballs out into the open for airing during the year and contributed greatly in keeping an otherwise dim football season from being too much of a disappointment. Under the leaderships of Cy Minnett, who unfortunately was forced out at mid-season because of a bad strep throat, and Durwood "Nose" Jones, the cheerleaders rallied behind the team in every game. The peak of cheering perfection came in the Notre Dame game when Coach Snavelly had to come off the bench to quiet the crowd in order that our own team might hear the plays called.

As Carolina's 1951-52 basketball team went into the final half of its season it appeared that whatever gods take care of basketball players were going to finally smile graciously on our Tar Heels. Injuries that had hexed the team for the past two years had not yet dealt us too many serious blows (although last year's starting center, Bud Maddie, had been lost since the beginning of the season because of a collar bone injury). The team had been going along at a more than successful clip and had taken six wins out of 10 Southern Conference games. If the Tar Heels kept that pace up they were a cinch for the SC tournament.

Coach Tom Scott had most of his players back from the team which had barely missed qualifying for the loop tourney last year and hopes were high for better success this year. Back at their usual positions were the team's high scorer Jack Wallace, guard Vince Grimaldi, and guard Howard Deasy. Needless to say, the team was hurt by the early loss of Maddie but two freshmen who had not been counted on for much action this year blossomed into experienced players and capably filled the remaining two starting positions. Al Lifson came off a temporary job with the junior varsity to make a brilliant showing with the first team and turned out to be one of the most consistent scorers while playing opposite Wallace. The center position went to a tall Indiana frosh, Paul Likens, who, after a slow start, began to use his 6'9" to the best advantage in grabbing rebounds. Coach Scott was also blessed with something that he had been lacking in previous years in the form of a strong list of reserves. For additional players he could call on juniors Bob Phillips, Ernie Schwarz, Jippy Carter, Cooper Taylor; senior Frank Redding; sophomore Skip Winstead; and freshman John Dittmar.

The team took a Christmas trip to the midwest for a two game series which proved anything but successful. The Tar Heels fell to powerful Illinois, long ranked the number-one team in the nation, 86-66 which was little disgrace, but were also forced to succumb to Bradley, which was not the great team that it had been the year before.

The annual Dixie Classic in Raleigh showed that the team was finding itself. The Tar Heels surprised everybody in the opening round when they dropped favored Southern California 49-45. Then in the semi-finals Carolina almost ended an 11 game losing streak to N. C. State before finally following 58-51. The fitting end to some inspired playing came in the consolation game when Deasy sank a free throw in the final three seconds to defeat Columbia 61-60 for third place in the tourney.

After this holiday tourney the Carolina team settled back into its task of winning a spot in the Conference playoff. The boys almost pulled the upset of the year when they held an eight point lead over the Wolfpack in the first game over here but then lost in an overtime 58-53. The State depth was too much to overcome. A second loss to Wake Forest left them with a 6-4 loop record coming into the back stretch and it looked like a sure bet that they would make the tournament this year.

Carolina's baseball team turned in one of the school's most successful records during the 1951 season by compiling a 16-10 mark. Letdowns against N. C. State, which the Tar Heels beat out for third place in the Big Four standing, accounted for three of these losses.

The team started the season with a trip to Florida where a round-robin affair with Alabama, finalists in the 1950 NCCA tourney, and Rollins produced some fast early-season practice. The Tar Heels finished behind the Crimson Tide in the meet with an even 2-2 mark, after taking an early lead.

After returning home Carolina took on some touring Yankee teams and came up with an exceptional record against them. The team took two games from Boston and singletons from Michigan State and Yale. Big Four play also proved successful except against the Wolfpack, who seemed to lose to everybody but Carolina. The Tar Heels at one time led the Big Four with a 5-3 record but Probably the two sweetest wins of the year were the 9-0 early season victory over Wake Forest, which had won the Big Four bunting of the year before, and the 14-0 blanking of Duke on Bill Lore's four-hitter which came a week after the Blue Devils had edged us out 8-7.

Soccer

After a good start, Carolina's soccer team was forced to swallow some midseason defeats at the hands of Duke and Maryland which darkened an otherwise bright season. Most of the players were inexperienced except for old hands such as Co-captains Eddie Foy and Bud Sawyer, and the defeats could be attributed to this factor. Standouts on the team were Monty Montgomery, Bud Kaufman, Burnie Burnstan and Barry Kalb, while Foy was given recognition for his play by being named All-Southern and All-American.

Cross Country

Sparked by the trio of captain Gordon Hamrick, junior Bob Webb and freshman Bob Barden, Carolina's cross country team showed marked improvement over last year and wound up as the third-ranked team in the Conference and second only to N. C. State, the Southern champion, in the Big Five. Perhaps the team's best showing came in the loss to Tennessee, one of the toughest squads in the country. The Tar Heel runners bowed 23-34 but the Carolina times were the best of the year. Barden was probably the top runner for Carolina during the season, but Webb, Hamrick, Mike Healy, and others scored consistently to carry the harriers to a successful year.

Two more meets with Army and Penn State also brought defeat, but the team was improving all along. R. S. White, the Southern Intercollegiate trampoline champ, captained the team for the year.

Wrestling

The 1951 dual meet season proved the most disastrous in years for Carolina's wrestlers who were unable to grab a win in seven matches. The team was made up mostly of inexperienced men, however, and the prospects for the 1952 season looked a great deal better.

The '52 team started the year with a victory over Davidson to make sure that the record was better than the season before, but were beaten in their next three starts by VPI, Washington and Lee, and VMI, all perennial Conference mat leaders.

Captain Tommy Cox and sophomore Tommy Stokes were the leading point winners and it appeared the team would come up with a few more wins during the year as the wrestlers gained experience. The coaching of Sam Barnes, in his second year at Carolina, was helping considerably and the younger members of the team were beginning to improve meet by meet.

Swimming

Despite the loss of All-American Jim Thomas and several other mainstays on the 1951 team, the Tar Heel swimmers opened their 1952 season with a bang by trouncing Duke, breaking two conference records, and chalking up Carolina's 50th consecutive conference dual meet win.

Duke was only the first in the twelve team dual meet schedule to feel the swimmers' wrath. They made impressive showings as they easily downed Virginia Tech, VMI, Georgia Tech, Emory, Bainbridge, Davidson, and Virginia.

During the season, records were shattered fast and furiously. Baarcke and Levy started the season

Top: Co-Captains Cecil Milton and R. S. White

Right: Coach Jamerson plots strategy

by breaking, respectively, the 150 yard medley and 50 yard freestyle conference records. Three pool records were broken at Tech and one at Emory as the swimmers downed the Atlanta schools. Freshmen Warren Heeman and Larry Shannon took control in several instances to put their names in the freshmen record books. The 400 yard freestyle relay team composed of Tinkham, Heins, Edwards, and Ambler were still shooting for the conference record after the Virginia meet. They had almost broken it once, but one of the boys missed a turn leaving the old record still standing.

Despite such individual stars as Evans, Levy, Wall, Baareke, and Kelso, who had taken first place in every dual meet through the Virginia one, the swimmers depended more on over all team work rather than on individual stars.

At the present time, the team goes after its 54th consecutive dual meet win and another Southern Conference title. The big barrier between Carolina and the title is State, who is presently tied for first place with the Tar Heels in the conference race. Although such teams as Princeton, Georgia, State, and La Salle still have to be faced, the swimmers are in high hopes of another undefeated season.

With such stars as Warren Heeman, Larry Shannon, Jack Edwards, Pete Higgins, Dick Alexander and Jay Alexander gaining a year's experience, next year's team, dulled by only the loss of two boys, will look just as bright as this season's.

Track

Coach Dale Ranson's track team continued most of its yearly dominance of the Southern Conference track and field events. The Tar Heels waged a continuous battle with Maryland for the loop supremacy, but after the season was complete little had been decided. Carolina won the annual Indoor Games in March and took a narrow win over the Terps in a spring dual meet. Maryland came back to take the Conference's spring meet, however, thus stopping Carolina's claim for undisputed first place in the League.

The Tar Heels were forced to taste their first defeat in dual meet competition since 1948, however, when a visiting Princeton team won by 15 points.

The team was co-captained by Dave Willis, top man in the 100-yard dash, and Bob House, Carolina's best pole vaulter. House won the Conference division in the Indoor Games with a mark well over 13 feet but failed three times in an attempt to break the University record. Willis was consistently good in the 100 and also won the 60-yard dash in the spring meet.

Golf

Carolina's 1951 golf team, playing its matches for the first year on the University's Finley Golf Course, turned a lengthy 16-meet schedule into one of the best seasons in years by compiling a 15-1 record.

Only a lone 14½-12½ loss to Duke at the Hope Valley Country Club marred the 1951 record. In the final meet of the season, however, the Tar Heels got revenge for the defeat by edging the Blue Devils 14-13, giving them the first victory over Duke since 1937.

With Harvie Ward, the Carolina kingpin for the past four years, departed from the local golf scene Coach Chuck Erickson rounded up a young and eager team. He had three veterans returning from the previous season in Captain Frank Brooks, Rodney McKnight, and Frank Eckert. He added four members of his 1950 freshman team to this trio to make up the starting sextet. Sophs Lew Brown, Bill Williamson, Jimmy Ferree, and Bob Black alternated in filling the remaining three positions.

The team had an undefeated record with 13 wins going into the first Duke match and although Brooks set a new Hope Valley course record with an eight-under-par 63, the Blue Devils won by two points. It was a different story when the two teams met at the Finley course, however. After warming up the day before by routing Wake Forest 23½-3½, the Tar Heels in turn handed Duke its only loss of the year when Brown and Ferree sank

The entire 18-hole Finley course was opened to student golfers, too, and proved to be a popular year-around venture. Ed Kinney was hired as the course pro and assisted Coach Erickson in putting out the high-powered team.

The team didn't fare too well in the NCAA tourney at Ohio State during the summer, although Ferree upset the Big Ten champion in his first round match. Brown and Black qualified but were eliminated in first-round play.

A surprising Carolina tennis team, one which most pre-season observers felt would be fortunate to win half of its 25 dual matches, completely upset the dopesters and made a complete sweep of the 1951 Southern Conference honors while compiling a 20-5 record for the year. In addition to the team's winning the SC title, the Tar Heels could claim the loop singles champ in Buddy Ager and the doubles champions in Ager and Bob Luxenberg. The seventh-seeded Ager had to upset his team's number-one player, Del Sylvia, in the finals at Davidson to win the singles title. He let his teammate win but two games in scoring a 6-0, 6-2, 6-0 victory. Ager, Sylvia, and Luxenberg were backed up during the season by Captain Heath Alexander. They were forced out of several matches by a trick knee, Buck Buchanan, Charlie Lambeth, and Bill Izlar.

sports, the Betas took the lead in the fraternity division but were closely followed by the Sigma Chi's, Zetas, and Dekes. The Med School, runners-up to the Betas for the football title, had a more commanding lead in the dormitory division, however. Winter and spring quarter sports of basketball, table tennis, soccer, softball, horseshoes, and tennis had not been counted in the point total as yet.

The Intramural Department also continued its successful presentation of sports and events which did not count in the point race. Golf, water polo, swimming, track, the annual Sports Carnival, and the Big Fun Carnival all merited wide participation and interest.

The program was again under the direction of Walter Rabb and his assistants Bill Kueyk and Sam Geek. The Intramural Managers Association functioned better than before during the year and proved a great aid in carrying out the Intramural program.

With the ousting of hell week by the fraternities it was hoped that the Greek Week Field Day, sponsored last year for the first time by the Department, would be better than ever.

In the fall the women students may participate in volley ball, hockey and table tennis. The winter quarter offers basketball, badminton, shuffleboard, and swimming, while spring session gives the coeds a chance to play golf, softball, tennis, and archery.

Awards and sorority and dormitory trophies are given out each spring at the annual picnic. The dorm and sorority with the highest number of points accumulated during the year are presented with trophies for the achievement. The WAA also sponsors organized clubs for special sports. The Splash Club presents an annual water pageant, noted for its professional touch, while the Hockey Club competes with teams from other universities and colleges in the fall. There are also modern dance, folk dance, and basketball clubs.

Student Government

With the increased awareness of students of their role both nationally and internationally as well as on the University level, this year has seen a renewed interest and increased activity on the part of the student body in Student Government, the student outlet for expression.

Student Government officers are chosen in campus elections in the fall and spring. Committee chairmen are appointed by the President, subject to the approval of the Student Legislature. The activities and functions of the Government are many and varied, and the Carolina system of Student Control, a democratic implement that is the personal possession of every student at the University, has achieved an enviable position at the top of the list of Student Governments in the nation.

This year has seen new efforts toward the realization of systems of curriculum and faculty evaluation, a strengthening program for Student Government itself. Through Student Government the student body has taken a vital role in the National Students' Association; the Greater University Student Council has been revised and strengthened. Student Government has gone forward in its emphasis upon freedom with responsibility and has come closer to achieving its goal of a truly responsible and effectively active student body.

Student Government, with its ability to train responsible, informed thinking and democratically oriented students, continued to hold its place of extreme importance in the system of education at the University. It has, through another year, reasserted its goal "to preserve order, make personal freedom secure, establish justice, and win a lasting opportunity for responsible individual and collective action."

The Student Legislature, founded in 1938, continues to function as the legislative branch of student government. Nearly all rules and regulations governing students here at the university are passed by this group. Its wide and varied powers, as defined in the 1950 revised constitution, are limited to its willingness to accept the responsibility which inevitably goes with authority.

Each legislator is elected by the students of his particular campus district. Under the conscientious and capable leadership of Bunny Davis, the Legislature worked with interested effort and was rewarded to see many problems solved.

Student Council

Larry Botto, Chairman

The Student Council, the supreme representative of the judicial branch of Student Government, is the most vital part of the government; for to it falls the responsibility of regulating the application of the Honor and Campus Codes, and justice to every individual.

The Council has original jurisdiction in cases involving the constitutionality of the Student Government Constitution. This court also hears appeals made from a defendant if he or she feels that either the Men's or Women's Council has tried the case unfairly. Any student or organization penalized by any of the other courts can also appeal to the Student Council.

The Council is composed of three members selected from and by the women students; three selected from and by the men students; and three selected from and by all students—making a total of nine members.

Allan Milledge, Chairman

Men's Honor Council

The Men's Honor Council, acting under the Student Constitution, has original jurisdiction in all cases of violations of the Honor Code and of the Campus Code. As violations of Campus Law are not by their nature in a codified form, the Men's Council by application of the criteria of honor and of gentlemanly conduct defines the application and the extent of Campus Law. Along with the duty of upholding Campus Law by hearing cases, the Men's Council also has the responsibility of orienting new students to our system and of keeping the system in front of the campus at all times.

In the hierarchy of our court system the Men's Council has functions parallel to the Women's Council, and is subordinate to the Student Council, our "Supreme Court."

The Men's Council is composed of three seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, one freshman, one pharmacy student, and one graduate student.

Second Row: John Hazelhurst, J. Albert House, Allan Milledge, Chairman; George K. Freeman, Jr., Clerk; Bill Walker.*

Women's Honor Council

Joyce Evans, Chairman

The Women's Honor Council is the coed judiciary which handles violations of the Honor System and the Campus Code by the women students, working as a parallel to the Men's Council. The Women's Council also acts as an appellate court for House Council decisions. The Council is one branch of the tripartate system of coed self-government, working with Coed Senate and Women's Interdormitory Council.

Each year the Council leads the orientation of women students in the Honor System and Campus Code, instructing entering coeds in the origin and meaning of these standards. Composed of four juniors, three seniors, one graduate student, and one woman student at large, the Women's Council is an important phase of self-government, striving to increase a fuller participation in the Carolina way of life.

Coed Senate

The Coed Senate, established in 1941 and originally part of the Women's Government Association, is the legislative body for women students. The purpose of the Senate is to bring the coed into the picture of student government; and in acting as the bridge between coeds and the student legislature, the Senate is the ultimate coordinating body for coed action.

The annual coed ball is presented by the Senate at the end of orientation week in the fall, and each spring leadership training week, a week designed to acquaint the newly elected officers of women's organizations with their responsibility, is sponsored.

Under the revised constitution, the Coed Senate, along with the Women's Interdorm Council, is incorporated in the Women's Residence Council. The new Council has charge of all coed affairs, including matters previously handled by both Interdorm and Coed Senate.

Speaker of the Coed Senate for this year was Joanne Page.

Publications Board

The Publications Board is a seven-man body which supervises the finances of Carolina's two student-supported publications. The Board approves the budgets of the two publications, negotiates contracts, approves appointments to salaried positions on the publications, purchases equipment, and handles all other financial details.

Weathering a storm of criticism and periods of indecision in the fall, the Board had a hard year with many long afternoon sessions in the Grail Room. Biggest problem of the year was the "standard vs. tabloid" question about the DTH format.

Officers for the year were Frank Allston, chairman; Ken Penegar, secretary, and Walter Dear, treasurer. Other members were Sue Lindsey and Peggy Stewart, student members, and Dr. G. A. Barrett and Mr. L. M. Pollander, faculty members. Ernest DeLaney served as financial coordinator.

Men's Interdormitory Council

The Men's Interdormitory Council represents over 3,000 men living in the University's eighteen dormitories. This year's council was the first to be composed entirely of student-elected officials, the membership consisting of the president and a special representative from each of the dormitories.

The council's main functions are connected with the affairs which affect dormitory men. This year's council was especially interested in working for dormitory social rooms and for improvement of dormitory social life.

President of the Men's Interdormitory Council this year was Bob Creed.

Women's Interdormitory Council

The Women's Interdormitory Council is the administrative body of coed self-government. Composed of dormitory presidents, sorority house managers, and the president of the Town Girls' Association, this group works with the office of the Dean of Women and the Board of Residence in regulating dormitory life.

Under the revised constitution, effective in the spring of '52, the Women's Interdormitory Council is incorporated in the Women's Residence Council. The functions of Interdorm include interpreting social regulations, recommending changes in regulations to Coed Senate (defunct under the new constitution), supervising the House Councils, and regulating all dormitory living. Through Interdorm, all coed administration is coordinated and linked to the office of the Dean of Women.

Special projects for the year were the sponsoring of a House Council Training Conference in the fall, standardization of house council procedure and policy, the drafting of a handbook to guide Interdorm and the House Councils in the future, and working for a broader social program.

Joan King served as President and Rosemary Cartmel as Secretary of the Women's Interdormitory Council. Kitty Campbell served as representative to Graham Memorial Board of Directors.

Graham Memorial opened twenty years ago as a memorial to former University president Edward Kidder Graham, has been the focus of this year's campus activities. For nearly fifteen hours a day, all sorts of activities buzz through the student union. Offices of student publications, student government headquarters, meeting lounges used by some 100 organizations, travel agency, photo lab, television lounge, barber shop, woodworking shop, poster shop, mimeographing service, and the increasingly popular Rendezvous Room are all features of Graham Memorial.

their regular line of duty. Brains behind the office efficiency and service is Edith Roos, personable office manager. In the spacious oak-paneled main lounge, oft the scene of receptions and teas, students are welcome to read the latest newspapers and magazines, study, or play games from early morning until late at night.

With the almost incalculable volume of activity transpiring in Graham Memorial under the genial and proven leadership of Director Bill Roth, the need for additional student union space and facilities, more strategically located, became more apparent.

Every student is a member of the union, to the support of which one dollar of each block fee is allocated. The policies of the building are in the hands of the Board of Directors drawn from the students, faculty, and administration. Members of the Board this year are Chairman Ken Penegar, Joan Erskine, John Boushall, Jack Prince, Ruth Conner, Marilyn Habel, Kemp Cate, J. M. Saunders, Prof. E. J. Woodhouse, Mrs. R. H. CLAUDE A. BARNHILL
President

The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Joel Carter, began its fall activities by joining the Women's Glee Club in singing at the annual University Day celebration. The quarter's work was climaxed by the annual Christmas concert featuring the combined clubs. In the Winter quarter, the Men's Glee Club gave two concerts with the Greensboro College Glee Club, one in Chapel Hill and one in Greensboro. The year's work was completed with the annual spring concert of the combined University glee clubs.

The officers for the year were: Claude A. Barnhill, President; Benjy M. Haywood, Vice-President; Herbert Pendergrast, Secretary; and Donald Davis, Business Manager.

JOAN CHARLES
President

The Women's Glee Club, under the able direction of Mr. Joel Carter, anticipated a highly successful year. The eighty members who attended the twice-weekly rehearsals worked hard for perfection in the performances given throughout the year.

A variety of programs was planned, including University Day, two radio broadcasts, the annual Christmas concert given jointly with the Men's Glee Club, a spring tour of North Carolina by a combined representation from both organizations, and a final spring concert which climaxed the year. The interest and cooperation shown by the club was especially significant in that it was responsible for the enthusiastic participation in musical activities on the campus.

Officers of the club for the year 1951-52 were: Joan Charles, President; Jane Piper, Vice-President; Jackie Leverett, Secretary; Ruth Davis, Treasurer; and Carolyn Kizer, Publicity Chairman.

University Band

The varsity band, under the direction of Earl Slocum, Professor of Music, and Assistant Director Joe Wood, is organized to accomplish a dual purpose: to furnish colorful programs at football games and various other University functions, and to provide opportunities for student members to study and perform the best musical literature written for the concert band.

In the fall, football shows are the chief concern. The UNC band has given outstanding performances at football games in past years, and it has, perhaps, its largest and most appreciative audiences in Kenan Stadium on football Saturdays. After football season, the band is divided into two units. These units render a concert during the winter quarter for visiting members of the North Carolina Bandmaster' Association.

In the spring, the Band presents a series of lawn concerts for the enjoyment of students, faculty, and townspeople. The band is one of many organizations open to qualified students here at Carolina—organizations which benefit both the student and the school. Officers for the year were Julian Mason, President; Fred Mauney, Vice-President; Joe Fields, Secretary-Treasurer; Al Ludwick, Publicity Manager; Gilbert Marsh, Business Manager; Joe Dail, Band Notes Editor; Lewis Mack and Lee Bostian, Librarians; and Ed Stevens, University Club Representative.

The University Symphony Orchestra

The University Symphony Orchestra was organized in order to give instrumentalists the valuable experience of playing together and other people in the vicinity the opportunity of hearing the standard symphonic music first hand.

The orchestra, numbering over fifty players, is composed of students, faculty members, and townspeople. Besides its three concerts every year, it accompanies operettas and oratorios presented by local organizations.

The officers for this year were: Bryce Jordan, President; Carl Baxter, Vice-President; and Joseph Wood, Jr., Secretary-Treasurer.

University Club

The University Club is primarily a service organization and all of its functions are carried through in the interest of the student body and the University. The motto of the club—For the University—is self-explanatory of the purpose of the Club.

Composed of a representative from each dormitory, fraternity, sorority, Band, Cardboard, Cheerleaders, and the Monogram Club, it has direct contact with almost every student on the campus.

The functions of the club are many and varied. Through its cooperation with the Athletic Association, the Club seeks to promote and maintain enthusiasm and good sportsmanship in all University events by sponsoring pep rallies, entertaining visiting teams, and fulfilling various other functions. This year the Club sponsored the "big" away game trip to Washington, D. C., when the football team played Maryland at College Park, Maryland, right outside Washington. Feature of the before-game ceremonies was a mile-long caravan and parade through the main business district of Washington and out to College Park. Another feature was the pregame festivities all week long preceding the Notre Dame game. In charge of Homecoming week-end festivities, the Club this year had to postpone until next year the display contests due to conflicts with the schedule.

The Club is also a member of the Southern Collegiate Pep Conference, which is the organization composed of schools all over the South, Southeast, and Southwest that get together once a year at some

Carolina Playmakers

On the night of October 23rd, 1951, the internationally famed Carolina Playmakers drew open the curtain on their thirty-fourth season since the simple beginnings in 1918. In that year of war and crisis, Frederick H. ("Prof") Koch came to our University from the plains of North Dakota and introduced his favorite English 31, a course for aspiring playwrights. Thus began the labor of building a new and vital folk drama.

The staging activities fall into two sections. There is first the program of major productions, including contemporary plays, classics, musical comedies, operas, and occasionally an original script which seems of unusual merit. At least one play is performed outdoors in the graceful Koch Memorial Forest Theatre, and another is taken on an extended tour of the state, and beyond.

Parallel with the major productions, and considered of at least equal importance, are the student productions of original one-act and full-length plays.

The Carolina Playmakers are a community theatre group. There are no mysterious initiation rites. Any student, member of the faculty, or resident of the area may become a member simply by participating in any one of the many phases involved in the staging of a Playmaker play.

Sound and Fury

Sound and Fury was organized on campus to promote interest in musical comedy. The organization offers students experiences in every phase of musical comedy work such as playwriting, stage direction, lighting, makeup, and other types of technical work as well as acting, dancing, and chorus work.

Sound and Fury is a student group and everyone is welcomed who wishes to help in some way to promote bigger and better productions.

The Carolina Communications Club has as its officers Jim Kilgo, president; Herb Turner, vice-president; Barbara Fyne, secretary; and Charlie Crone, treasurer. The club was organized a few years ago when persons interested in Radio, TV, and Motion Pictures decided to get better acquainted with the media. Fall quarter brings an informal get-together for the new students and then when the spring of the year rolls around the club has a picnic for all members and alumni. The Radio Workshop, which is the club's main project, is composed of interested students trying their wings out as producer, engineer, sound man, and actor. The Workshop group must submit a show each week, of varied types, on tape. It's no wonder club members spend so many hours behind the sound-proof doors of Studios A, B, and C in Swain Hall.

Long active at Carolina, the Town Girls' Association provides an opportunity for the girls who live in Chapel Hill to become acquainted with student affairs and to participate in extra-curricular activities. It provides organized support for Town Girls qualified for candidacy in coed elections and supports athletic teams in intramural contests.

T.G.A.'s social program each year is designed to encourage Town Girl participation in campus social life, and particular emphasis is placed on socials given by T.G.A. in cooperation with other groups. Such events include the annual social for new coeds, Christmas festivities at Graham Memorial, and spring picnics with A.P.O. and Town Men.

Of the two organized political parties on the campus, the University Party is the oldest, having been functioning continually on the behalf of student welfare for more than two decades.

The University party record compiled in the past twenty odd years invites comparison with other political organizations that are on the campus now or that have been during recent years. The UP has always advocated forthright policies designed for the betterment of student government here at the University; it has always nominated qualified, capable candidates, and has enjoyed great success in defeating independent candidates and candidates of other parties.

The organization of the University Party consists of the general party membership, the Steering Committee, and the Executive Committee.

The Press Club has sought to promote extracurricular instruction for its members, encourage interest in student publications and maintain contact with alumni within the field of journalism.

While special emphasis is placed on instruction and vocational preparation, the social aspect is not neglected. Several times each quarter the members of the Press Club hold open house in order to extend fellowship among themselves and to others.

Officers for the Press Club for this past year were Leo "Buddy" Northart, president; Barry Farber, vice-president; O. Mac White, secretary; Roland Taylor, treasurer; and Walt Dear, publicity director.

Pharmacy Senate

The Pharmacy Senate was founded at the University of North Carolina in February, 1940, through the efforts of Dr. Edward A. Brecht, professor of Materia Medica. Membership is limited to the student body of the School of Pharmacy.

The purpose of the Senate is the stimulation of an increased knowledge of the profession by free discussion of its various phases, and to promote inter-class friendship and cooperation within the School of Pharmacy.

In addition to the regular meetings, held every other Tuesday night, prominent speakers are engaged to present programs to the Pharmacy student body.

Debate Council

The Debate Council is a representative board which organizes (1) intramural debating among all those interested in Public Speaking and (2) varsity debating among those skilled enough to represent Carolina in competition with other schools.

Although the Debate Council is a direct outgrowth of the Dialectic Senate and the Philanthropic Society and for many years represented the student government, it no longer confines itself to a strictly "on campus" function; but sends its rep-representatives to numerous Forensic Tournaments to compete with many of the major universities in the East.

The Council members are a selected number of students chosen by the debate squad, a representative from each of the debating societies, and two faculty advisers.

Officers for the year were: Lacy Thornburg, President; Dick Jaffe, Executive Secretary.

Founded in 1795, the Dialectic Senate is the oldest extra-curricular organization at the University of North Carolina. It was the forerunner of all student activities on the campus and is still giving birth to new ideas and new implementation of those ideas. After 154 years the Senate continues to stand as a laboratory for practical experience in the art of public speaking, in leadership, and in the use of Parliamentary Law.

This year the emphasis has been on the renovation of the Senate Hall. Former Senators from many parts of the state and country have helped to insure the successful completion of the two-year-old program. Next year should see the senate hall furnished with fifty new chairs and desks and a lovely wall-to-wall carpet.

Officers for the year are Bob Clampitt, President; Gene Cook, President Pro-Tem; Ed Smith, Critic; Heath Carriker, Clerk; Jim Maynard, Treasurer; Gerald Parker, Sergeant-at-Arms.

J. ALBERT HOUSE
Speaker

Founded in 1795, the first year of the University, the Phi Assembly is one of the oldest and most renowned debating societies of its kind in the nation. Famous not only for its lead in debating, the Phi is also a workshop for the mastering of parliamentary procedure and the elements of government. It is a training ground for many of the leaders of the University, state, and nation and from its halls have gone many governors of North Carolina, a vice-president of the United States, many Congressmen and Senators, ambassadors, and cabinet members. In the words of alumnus William B. Umstead, "It is here in the Phi that students find that spark of leadership."

Notable among the contributions of the Phi to the student body have been the initiation of student government, the Honor Code, the endowment of the Library, and New East Building. Dedicated to Virtue, Liberty, and Science and the interchange of free thought and opinion, it is open to every student of the University and is an integral part of the Carolina heritage.

The officers of the Phi this year were: Speaker, J. Albert House; Speaker Pro-Tem, Robert Pace; Parliamentarian, Sol Cherry; Clerk, James Fouts; Critic, D. Kent Jackson; Treasurer, Franz Roberts; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Robert Gorham.

Carolina Forum

As far as Student Government goes, the Carolina Forum is comparatively new. In the three short years since its origin, the Carolina Forum has achieved wonderful success.

The Forum's primary service consists of bringing outstanding speakers of national and worldwide importance to address the students. In the past few years the Forum has procured such prominent speakers as Senator Robert Taft, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and governors of several states. Last year, under chairman Bob Evens, the Forum experienced its greatest success in bringing to Carolina General Mark W. Clark, Leverett Saltonstall, Edward R. Murrow, and General Omar Bradley.

With the invaluable assistance of President Gordon Gray, the Carolina Forum hopes to procure such men as Senators Estes Kefauver and Bryan McMahon, Averill Harriman, James Webb, President James B. Conant of Harvard University, and others.

Serving more than one thousand Baptist students on campus, the Baptist Student Union promotes many activities designed to encourage Christian education and spiritual growth. This program includes morning worship, Church school, Sunday night supper forums, noonday devotionals, council meetings, and socials. J. C. Herrin is student chaplain, and Bill Cash served as president this year.

The Canterbury Club is a Sunday night supper group sponsored by the Episcopal Church. The picture at the left shows the group supper meeting before an address by the Reverend Covell of Southern Pines. Such speakers are often heard at Canterbury Club.

Hillel Foundation

The B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation was organized twenty-eight years ago by the B'nai B'rith, the largest Jewish service organization in the country. There are now 200 Hillel units serving Jewish students throughout the United States, Canada, Cuba, and Israel.

The Foundation attempts to meet the religious, cultural, social, and vocational needs of the Jewish students on campus. Activities include religious services, exhibits, forums, classes, dances, vocational information, and projects of an interfaith nature.

Hillel is a democratic organization. The program is determined by the Cabinet and by the various committees, through which the students participate in the organization. The Hillel Foundation thus helps train the students for leadership in the Jewish and the general community.

President for this year is Ted Frankel.

The Young Women's Christian Association on the Carolina campus is an ever-growing, working organization with members engaged in many activities, fulfilling a three-fold purpose:

To seek to know God; to understand Jesus and follow Him—

To unite in a desire to realize a full and creative college life—

To determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people.

Organized on campus in 1937, the YWCA is now composed of over 500 members, and has two

The Young Men's Christian Association is one of Carolina's most venerable organizations. Established in 1858, it is the third oldest student YMCA in the country. This Christian Association is a fellowship of students, faculty, and friends interested in developing mature Christian faith. It is non-denominational, inter-collegiate, international, and all-inclusive in membership. It carries on services and activities which enable men to grow in understanding, responsibility, and leadership, and to apply their Christian insights to the problems of personal and group work. Some of its activities for 1951-52 include Freshman Camp, speakers, house and dorm discussions, conferences, deputations, Bible study, educational movies, social services, faculty-student relations, conference on courtship and marriage, sponsoring of two D. P. students, help with the World Student Service Fund, a clothing drive, and working with the Inter-faith Council. Other services include the publication of the Carolina Handbook, the Student Directory, and conducting a Lost and Found Bureau and an Information Center.

BILL HOGSHEAD
President

The Y has three very able staff members. Claude Shotts, General Secretary, and John Riebel, Associate Secretary, spend much of their time in counseling students, committee chairmen, and the leaders of various campus organizations. Irene McDonald is the Y's very competent and likable office secretary.

Carolina Quarterly

This year the Carolina Quarterly, in its fourth year of publication, appeared with a new emphasis, the emphasis on student participation. Under the able editorship of Ted DuVal, the magazine became a valuable literary outlet for the students, representing the creative arts of the University.

Beginning in the fall quarter, the staff sought to increase circulation among students through an extensive publicity campaign and subscription drive. And with the success of this venture the Quarterly maintained a high degree of student interest throughout the year with lively issues reflecting the creative abilities of the contributors.

The well co-ordinated staff became a body of hard-working individuals interested in the magazine as a student workshop serving the literary interests of not only the University, but also of the state itself.

Daily Tar Heel

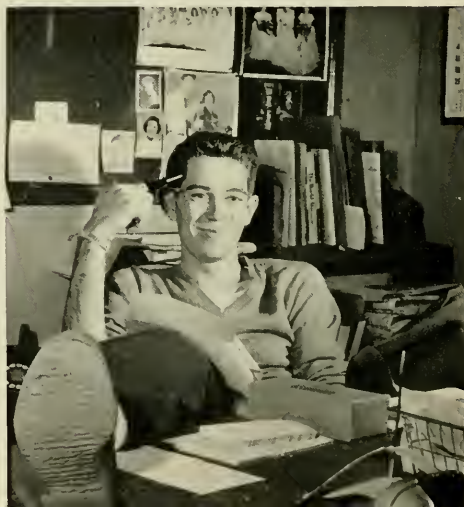

The South's oldest college daily can claim three firsts for this year's editions.

For the first time, due to a serious lack of funds, The Daily Tar Heel came out regularly in a five column by 16 inch tabloid size. In spite of space limitations, it continued to be a reliable news source for its readers, the state dailies, and the national wire services.

GLENN ABBOTT HARDEN
Editor-in-Chief

BRUCE MELTON
Managing Editor

Editor Glenn Harden served as the first female chief except for two partial terms of women during the man shortage of World War II.

This year's pint-sized example of power of the press was printed on a modern stereotype press instead of the outmoded flatbed for the first time in its history. As a result, the time consumed in the printing process was halved.

"Old Mats and Gauge" Bruce Melton as managing editor held the reins on makeup and judged the news that was fit to print. As his assistant, News Editor David Buckner saw to it that the news was covered and was in on time to meet the deadlines.

Sports Editor Bill Peacock and his staff of sports saw to it that Carolina and Big Four athletics were recorded for both today's readers and for posterity.

Business Manager Oliver Watkins had to wear kid gloves to soothe a financial tempest. With a lot of midnight oil he saw to it that ends met and that there was still enough moola left over to produce a top notch sheet. Advertising Manager Marie Costello and her staff did their best to keep as steady as possible a flow of cash coming in to him.

Associating with the editor were Beverly Baylor and Al Perry to comment and interpret the news in the editorial page.

Adding color to the pages was Feature Editor Walt Dear who gave the inside poop on everything from tobacco stems to Confederate flags.

Society Editor Mary Nell Boddie and Assistant Society Editor Nancy Burgess sacrificed their fingernails to the typewriter in order that dorms as well as fraternities should catch their share of the social limelight.

Making sure that no one was left out on DTH circulation were Circulation Manager Neil Cadien and Subscription Manager Chase Ambler.

Yackety Yack

The final production of the Yackety Yack is the result of the co-ordinated efforts of many people. The bulk of the original work rests upon the student staff, with co-operation from the student body at large. To the section editors and general staff goes most of the credit for the smooth functioning this year of a stepped-up schedule. And also to be recognized are the many who typed the white photo cards during the class picture taking phase in the early part of the fall quarter; those who helped the editors type copy; and the many who just ran the miscellaneous errands which were so indispensable. A special vote of thanks should be given to staffers Daisy Wade, who sketched the new line cuts of the houses for some of the fraternities and sororities, and to Joel Fleishman, who couldn't make it for the general staff picture. The big problem of communication to the Carolina campus was lessened through the assistance of the publication down the hall, The Daily Tar Heel, which ran announcements, stories and features for us, plus the work of Joan King and Bish Fox on the posters stating shooting schedules and advertising the Beauty Contest.

Although this yearbook is predominantly a student-run publication, ideas, suggestions, constructive criticism, or just sympathetic listening to an editor's problems come from many now non-student areas. 1951 Editor-in-Chief Jim Mills contributed advice on technicalities and the gentle art of finesse, while 1951 Production Co-ordinator Charlie Fox offered ideas on organization of staff and material. Director of Graham Memorial Bill Roth was the epitome of patience when the Yack monopolized the use of Roland Parker Lounge Number 3 for an extra month, and he just recently has been instrumental in obtaining new furniture for the office which will facilitate the cramped working quarters. Ray Jeffries of the Dean of Students Office added his bit in helping to correlate names with the faces, faces and more faces in the group pictures and by furnishing information about this Greater University at Chapel Hill. The constructive criticism and assistance from Mr. "Spike" Saunders of the Alumni Office and from Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson of Raleigh are greatly appreciated, as are the efforts of the University News Bureau; Irene McDonald of the YMCA; and the Carolina Coffee Shop and N. C. Cafeteria in displaying the aforementioned posters.

In Chapel Hill the ideas are formulated; a dummy embodying these ideas in rough form is worked up, torn up, worked over and changed again to "fit the pictures." In the fall the photographers from Waller and Smith in Raleigh sit around from Monday through Wednesday waiting for students to come in for their sittings; they stand up all Thursday and Friday shooting pictures when the Tar Heels roll in. Mr. Fay Smith sends the ordered glossies and then most kindly rushes over the extra unordered glossies for that last minute. The details of write-ups, pictures, identification, and typed copy are periodically finally pulled together. And then it's all packed neatly in an 11 x 14 package and sent with our blessings to Charlotte where the men behind the scenes, Price Coursey of the Charlotte Engraving Company and Frank Fleming of the Lassiter Corporation take over. The Kingsport Press, Inc., produces the covers, and the Carolina Ruling and Binding Co. puts it all together.

It has been done before sixty-one times. This is the sixty-second time. And volume sixty-three is on its way.

Photographers

"Say it with pictures" has become more and more through the years the trend in yearbook format. Consequently, the photographer or photographers have become an increasingly important and integral part of an annual staff.

Most of the photography in this 1952 edition of the Yackety Yack, with the exceptions of the class pictures by Waller and Smith Studios and the portraits of the Beauty Court and Queen by Francis Laverne Johnson, was done by the five people shown on this page.

Pictures for the Yack scheduled through the non-profit University owned and operated Photo Lab were assigned to UNC students Margaret Fisler and Norman Hull-Ryde. Norm, a native of Gastonia, North Carolina, has been taking pictures for the lab for a year and a half. Margaret, a graduate of A.S.T.C. in Boone, North Carolina, and the Progressive School of Photography in New Haven, Connecticut, did free lance and magazine and newspaper photography before coming to Chapel Hill.

Jim (Big Lens) Mills, combination photographer-editor for the Yack of last year, made his contribution of pictures taken during the spring and summer of '51 to the '52 Yack before he joined the Air Force to swap his photographic career for flying.

Bill Neely, operating in the dual functions of Yack Managing Editor and Photographer, is the Rolleiflex fan in the lot. After working overtime shooting pictures, Bill trekked to his darkroom in Durham to develop his negatives and then trekked back to Chapel Hill with the prints to "make that deadline."

Ruffin Woody of Roxboro, North Carolina, the freshman of the photographic staff, sweated out the fall quarter with a heavy schedule of group pictures for the yearbook and football photos for both the Yack and the DTH, plus the job of going to school. Contrary to the lower left shot, Woody operates a Speed Graphic.

Credit lines also go to Bill Gulley for some of the basketball shots; to Harris and Ewing for the portrait of Gordon Gray; and to the Asheville Citizen and the Durham Sun for some football game shots.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, was founded in 1925 at Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania. Rho Chapter, numbering seventeenth among the more than 200 chapters, was chartered here on May 19, 1930, and was reactivated after the war in 1949.

Alpha Phi Omega engages in projects of worthwhile service to the campus, the community, and the nation. A few of the useful activities engaged in by Rho Chapter were aid to handicapped students, help to the Blood Bank, first-aid booths at the football games, Parents' Day and the reactivation of Battle Park picnic grounds.

Alpha Epsilon Delta

The National Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta established the North Carolina Beta Chapter of this honorary pre-medical society at the University of North Carolina on March 25, 1936. Since that date the local chapter has been active as a guiding group to interested pre-medical students. It has helped to give these students an insight into the problems and philosophy of a medical career. By the presentation of guest speakers from the various phases of the medical profession, visits to hospitals, and similar activities, the chapter has endeavored to bridge the gap between the Pre-Medical School and the School of Medicine.

Purpose: To stimulate interest in the profession of pharmacy among men of outstanding character, integrity, and scholarship. Through education and fraternal spirit, we endeavor to equip our men with a well-rounded background to serve the profession to the maximum advantage of both the public and ourselves.

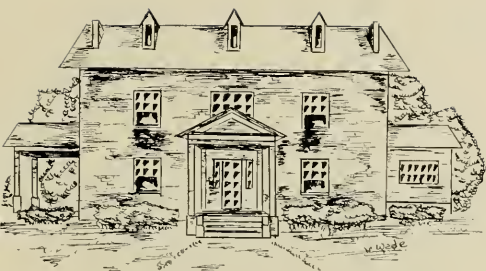

After spending a most enjoyable vacation, all the Kappa Psi's journeyed toward Chapel Hill and found themselves in a new location at 117 West Rosemary Street. After a week or so of renovation, our new house appeared to be in a livable condition — with each brother's helping hand.

On our agenda for the year 1951-52 were many varied activities; rushing, smokers, alumni "get-togethers," Christmas Party, Pledge Dance, initiation for new members, participation in intramural sports, NCPA, and Senate programs, and finally the long awaited Pharmacy Week-end.

Before we realized it, June had rolled around and found us cramming for Spring quarter exams. Some of the brothers left Chapel Hill for another Summer's experience in that old prescription department, but the serious minded seniors could be found in Chapel Hill "burning the midnight oil" in preparation for the State Board Examination. Good Luck, Brothers!

Alpha Kappa Psi

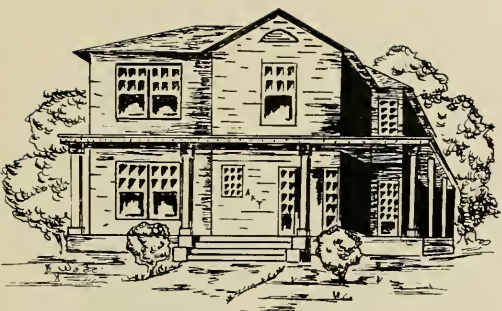

Alpha Kappa Psi—founded on October 5, 1904, at New York University, New York City — is the first and oldest commerce fraternity in the United States today. Chapters have since been established only in those schools which have been highly accredited in the fields of commerce. Our chapter, Alpha Tau, was first installed at Carolina on February 18, 1925; and after being dormant since 1933, it was reactivated on November 7, 1948, and has since attained a high rank among all chapters in the nation.

We, the members of the Alpha Tau Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, have made it our task to further the individual welfare of each member by the association of our mutual helpfulness and common interest in the fields of business administration. It has been our utmost desire to better ourselves through an exchange of ideas and through a knowledge of commerce so that we may become professionally improved and better able to fit into the mold of the business world. In order to accomplish this task, we gather in our meetings not only to acquaint ourselves in social activities but also to achieve, always in the spirit of a common profession, a more implicit and exact perception of our future. This attainment shall not be a personal accomplishment, but one which shall foster scientific research in the fields of business, one which shall educate the public to appreciate and demand a more compelling and a more honest business world, one which shall promote all students who seek to obtain degrees in business administration. With these purposes and ideals in mind, we shall continue to direct all of our actions in the advancement of a better and more cooperative world of business.

Sigma Alpha Iota

The Iota Tau Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity for women, was established at the University of North Carolina in April, 1946. Since that date the Chapter has endeavored to further the interest in music at the University through various musical programs and activities. This year Iota Tau Chapter entertained rushees in the Rendezvous Room and the Chapter Room. This was followed by the traditional Pledge Ceremony and a recital by the pledges. Sigma Alpha Iota annually presents a Program of American Music in collaboration with Phi Mu Alpha in Hill

Hall during Spring quarter. Iota Tau was proud to have as its guests for a dinner party the Sigma Alpha Iota Chapter at Meredith College in Raleigh. The participating patronesses for Iota Tau Chapter are Mrs. Earl Slocum, Mrs. Loren T. McKinney, and Mrs. R. H. Wettach.

Battle Senate of Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity was established at the University of North Carolina in 1924. Delta Theta Phi, a national organization, was founded in 1901 at Cleveland Law School and has grown until it has over 28,000 members. Today its 80 senates make it the largest legal fraternity in the United States.

The object of Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity is to unite fraternally congenial students of the law, to lead them and their fellow students to high scholarship and legal learning, to surround them with an environment such that the traditions of the law and of the profession may descend upon them, to promote justice and to advance the interests of the law.

Battle Senate has continued its social and professional program, but particular emphasis has been placed on the professional. Through this program Delta Theta Phi seeks to acquaint the law student with the aspects of the practice of law which he cannot acquire from the law school curriculum. Included in this program have been lectures by outstanding attorneys and judges, as well as trips to the North Carolina Supreme Court and other places of interest to law students.

Phi Alpha Delta

Law Fraternity

Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity was founded in 1898 at the University of Chicago School of Law. The Ruffin Chapter was established at the University of North Carolina in April, 1921. The Fraternity sets as its purpose the forming of a strong bond between the members of the classes in Law School; the forming of a connection between the members of Law School and former students; and the cultivation of a closer bond of friendship and the attainment of a higher and broader culture than that afforded by the regular college course.

Each year the Chapter conducts a mock trial presided over by a member of the state bench, and holds a series of banquets with prominent members of the bench and bar invited as speakers. A lending textbook service set up by the Chapter is available to all of the members of the School of Law. This combined social-professional program is carried out with the intentions of improving professional standards and developing leadership through association and service.

Phi Delta Phi International Legal Fraternity, the oldest professional fraternity of any kind in America, was founded at the University of Michigan in 1869. Vance Inn of Phi Delta Phi was founded at the University of North Carolina in 1919. It has the distinction of being the only legal fraternity that remained active here throughout the war years.

The Fraternity sponsors two publications as a service to its members. The "Brief" is a quarterly magazine carrying articles of timely interest both as to the Law in general and as to the activities of Phi Delta Phi Inns and alumni of Phi Delta Phi. The "Directory" is an annual publication containing names and other information regarding the Phi Delta Phi members of the bar. The 1950 edition carries listings of 41,421 members with information as to their locality and type of practice. Phi Delta Phi holds an international convention every two years at places selected at previous conventions.

Vance Inn has monthly luncheons with visiting practitioners as guest speakers, and the Inn has one purely social function each semester. Vance Inn has a special project designed to stimulate closer cooperation between law students and members of the bar in such a way as to allow students to work with practicing attorneys in both research and on cases.

The purpose of Phi Delta Phi, to promote a higher standard of professional ethics and culture in this and other law schools and in the profession at large, is the constant theme of all our activity.

Phi Delta Chi is a professional pharmaceutical fraternity founded to promote and advance the science of pharmacy by striving to instill in its members the highest ideals and principles worthy of an old and honored profession.

This, the Alpha Gamma Chapter, was established at the University of North Carolina on May 30, 1922. Since then it has been an active organization in the School of Pharmacy.

Another year by the boards. The football week-ends. Many of the brothers back for the Notre Dame week-end. Parties running wild. All the brothers majoring in "Nursing Arts." Led by Paddy of course. Runt and Moe. "Let's Party." Goon W. C. ing. The married brothers, Brooks, Pop, Lelon, Lewis. Your wives are always welcome, men. And some studied; Tom, Bill, Vernon, Charles. Others were waiting for June. Kuth and Bucky. I've got the warms for you. Bull still bullying. Bostian and Shadow thought the Jr. year. "I'll raise you two." Randy everywhere, usually with. "Men, bills are payable before the tenth." "We need a fourth for bridge." A wonderful year. P. H. C. Week-end still rocking. Many fine parties. Too many classes and labs. We will make it yet. Here comes Flash.

Rho Chi Society

The Rho Chi Pharmaceutical Honorary Society was founded at the University of Michigan in 1908. The XI Chapter of the University of North Carolina was established in 1929.

The object of the Society is twofold: to promote the advancement of pharmaceutical sciences and to promote good fellowship among undergraduates, graduates and faculty members, bringing them together in fraternal and helpful comradeship.

Rho Chi represents a minimum of 112 quarter hours of work in which an average of 92.5 or better has been maintained. Membership is the most coveted award of a pharmacy student.

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council is composed of three representatives from each sorority, two from the Stray Greeks, and Mrs. Emery Denny, Jr., adviser. Through the council, relations are furthered between the sororities themselves and the Campus Community.

Kappa Delta Sorority saw its first year on campus and brought the total number of sororities to six. The sororities saw a very successful year on campus in pledging 131 girls. These girls were entertained during orientation week with the traditional Panhellenic and CICA sponsored fashion show. Fraternity dances, Olio skits, May Day planning and the Spring Workshop were just a few of the activities which highlighted an active calendar of events for the year.

The projects of the council for this year were the Crossmore School in the mountains of N. C., which is helped annually by Panhel. Also, the children from the Methodist Orphanage in Raleigh were entertained by the sororities and the council, and welfare work in Chapel Hill was undertaken.

Following their annual tradition, the sorority with the highest scholastic average was awarded a silver loving cup.

The new coeds get a glimpse of campus fashions, at a Panhel sponsored fashion review.

Stray Greeks

The Stray Greeks were founded in 1944 under the leadership of Twigg Branch. Since then, the organization has achieved more and more recognition as a social group. It is composed of sorority girls whose chapters are not represented on campus.

The aim of the Stray Greeks is to provide a social outlet for its members, and to preserve the bonds of unity and sisterhood in sorority life. Activities of the group include sponsoring various charity programs, participating in sorority and other social functions, and assisting during rush week as the seventh member of Panhellenic Council.

Alpha Delta Pi

There were many tales from the lucky six who attended our Centennial Convention in Maeon last June. We'll remember the greatest of pledge classes ushered in by Betty Lou, Fay as WAA prexy, and Caroline keeping the YW stocked with members. Our Belltone Cackie never missed on those all-important daily letters from Dick. "Swimming anyone?" was the cry from Splash Club President, P. K. Libby was always in those labs and Dixon in Doodlebug off to see Irving.

Carolyn was ambassador to Mr. Kear and Andeews had her daily visits from the florist. Stockton took off from blinking the lights at five of, and visited Davidson. A serenade for Pat came from R. A. and brother Sigs. Sue and Marilyn were our Junior Varsity cheerleaders while Joanne and Nancy added artistic touches to the chapter. 'Love' was very much in same with the Marlowe, of course. Binny got her diamond so we all donned sun glasses.

The lost sisters, 'Mole' and 'Rufus,' are now simply Lawrence and Scarboro. Sara Ann drafted volunteers in hopes of retiring the WAA cup. Frieze had her noon-time coffee party. Dean had her daily conferences with Jacque, and Stew kept Student Government running. Jacks, our gavel handler, orated on the Massie and Nellie pined for her Ivy Leaguer. Miss Rambo reigned as queen of the Beta Upsilon gals while Susie, Tamer and Helena kept us happy at mealtime.

These memories, the Pledge Dance at the Inn, and the Black Diamond Banquet in May, all combined to make this year the greatest for us, and one of the always great ones for AD Pi.

"Fools rush in where angels fear to tread." Bedlam reigned in the new house as paint brushes flew. At last we did it. From cellar to penthouse, all was completed. Then there was convalescence. 'Twas the night after rush with wonderful pledges. Convalescence again and then recovery in time to cheer Bobbie on as she cheers for the team. Bobbie convalesces and we have Sunday coffee climaxed with the trip to the Dairy Bar for more coffee.

Winter quarter left memories of another "Winter Wonderland" pledge dance. The Rose Banquet, too. Pledges shone with their goat songs at the traditional Christmas party. Becky, Pulley and Sue prove that diamonds are a girl's best friend. Meetings, forever meetings. Joan, President of Glee Club, Vice-Pres of Valkyries and on Student Council; Sue, Editor of Pert'n Pertinent; Winx on Student Council; Adrian, Treasurer of Panhel. Thanks to Sally and Alice, the campus invades the house for those Saturday brunches. All these things, and more, we'll remember.

Chi Omega

Chi Omega had its own pre-school clean-up campaign. "Welcome to the X and horseshoe." Mrs. Neal's milkshakes, the tremendous sigh of relief after rushing and 'the Beebe had three daughters,' we'll remember.

The sisters, their sayings and doings, the transfers and pledges, welcome additions to the house, all add up to a wonderful memory of Chi O.

We'll never forget Frankie's dirty old dollar bills, Pellen, Chairman of Student advisors, and Chris saying "It's eleven, y'all." Not to mention Rosie, Jo, and 'Relia singing "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," and Gina, Cookie and Mary Ann convening at the Willard in Washington.

Mop, the commuter, Lucile, President of Panhellenic, Eunice and Cozy with their Phi Gam pins, and Mary, the draft dodge, added color to the crowd. So did Suzanne running up the SAE dinner bills, Mimi and Heilig dashing out to see Mr. Parker, and Neely and Ruth, always seen together.

Libby's phone calls, Betsy's lahs, Helenancopie; did the spelling bee bite Nancy Fort? Betty Wou, we wuv you, Joan, the White Star girl, our old hand Betty Heath; Libba's community wardrobe, Peggy and her small talk and Mel's leading the Valkyries added to a grand party at Lloyd's barn, plans anticipated and plans completed, all mix up to make one grand memory of Chi Omega.

Coffees, quizzes, parties, football season, the pledge dance, Valkyrie Sing, more quizzies and more parties. All are memories of a wonderful year with Alpha Sigma.

This year was started off with a bang when in October we took in a wonderful pledge class. Under the guidance of Joyce, pledge trainer, they became full fledged members during winter quarter.

All the Deltas were busy doing one thing and another. Betty Reese and Adair contributed their say so to Woman's Honor Council, presided over by Joyce. Deltas buzzed around the Y office constantly. Adair served as vice-president of the cabinet. Assisting her as members were Parker, Street, Patty and Jackie.

Versatile chapter president, Pat, was a Student Council member, and Jackie had a hand in the publication of the Yack. McKinnon, Liz, and Merrill, cheered the team through football season. Cowan was senior class secretary and Jackie was social chairman. Van Kirk kept the Panhel records straight while Luke had a hand in University Club activities.

All members had a hand in one campus activity or another. We were all busy as bees, but never too rushed to get a taste of the fun side of campus life. All these and more memories have made Tri Delt play a vital part in our college lives.

Kappa Delta

Beta Chi began the year with purpose; Glenn Harden assumed her duties as Editor of the Daily Tar Heel and Joanne Page picked up the gavel as Speaker of Coed Senate. Chi Delta Phi, National Literary sorority, claimed five sisters; Glenn, Barb, Joanne, Pat, and Amy as treasurer.

Gwen Gore, as head of the World Relatedness Commission gave her support to the Y, assisted by the Knighten sisters, and Mary. Splash club also received the wet support of Gwen and Martha.

Joining sister Glenn on the Tar Heel were Burma and Dian. Dian played Senator in Coed Senate and confusion in Interdorm Council. Sister Joanne helped the Administration by attending the President's and Woman's Councils plus Greater University Council.

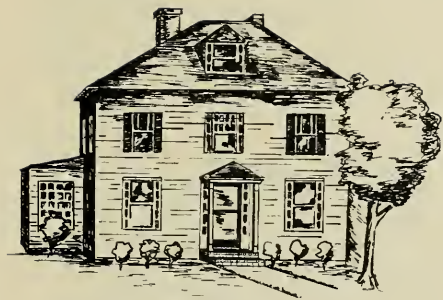

Jordan, Martha and Amy were representatives of KD to Panhel with Amy as scholarship chairman. Mary graced the University club along with Edna.

Joanne, Amy, Chung and Gwen were student advisers.

Because of a wonderful pledge class and the typical KD spirit, our first year on campus was a mighty happy one.

Pi Beta Phi

The Pi Phi's really shot the arrow high this year, right into the middle of all the campus activities. It all got under way during rush, under the direction of Cathy and Kelly. After all the new pledges were welcomed into the chapter, and orientation, well planned by Babs, was over, things began to pop.

Tyson and Patsy served on Coed Senate while chapter president, Helen, was busy with Student Legislature. Gloria, Barb, and Rusty were busy at the Y, taking orders from Y president, Betty Ray and treasurer, Janie Piper. Janie was also glee club vesp.

Helen and Yuck editor, Sue, were our members in the Valkyries. Sandy, sorority publicity manager, was on Woman's Honor Council and Jo served as chairman of interdorm. Patsy served on her council. With Ambler as social chairman of the sophomore class, and Tish as band majorette, we were well represented in campus doings.

Many projects—the mountain school, the magazine agency, and Holt House, kept us all interested. Not to mention wonderful memories of Pi Phi week-end, the picnic, pledge dance and Sunday Coffees. Founders Day, Valkyrie sing, the Duke float and being honored by the fraternities will all play a big part in our Pi Phi memories.

Interfraternity

The Interfraternity Council, long regarded on this campus as a do-nothing organization, came out of its doldrums with a rush this year.

Under the capable leadership of Johnny Robison, the IFC stepped out at the head of the fight to banish hazing from the Carolina campus. This accomplished, the council set out to stop the discrimination against coeds in the present visiting agreements.

The IFC also presented its annual Andrew Bershak Memorial Scholarship, valued at two thousand dollars. The fund is made up of individual contributions from the members of the social fraternities.

Also, the council branched out into leadership in matters that concerned the campus as a whole. Careless students were abusing the old custom of congregating on the South Building steps between classes to talk and drink coffee by leaving the area looking like a busy day in the junk yard. The IFC volunteered to lead a group of campus organizations in the campaign to make the student body conscious of the mess they were making. By means of a vigorous publicity campaign, skits, and various stunts, the litterers were reformed. The steps are fairly clean now.

Beta Theta Pi

We hit the house in the fall, all of us well treated by the summer . . . except Brother Jim who fell into the clutches of the Coast Guard. No other casualties reported but many near misses. Summer romances (?) and lost pins on the part of Buddy, Rex, and Von Brunen . . . they join the army of married boobs.

October brought rushing and the "Ivy" look to the house. It payed off . . . but Buddy and Geek were still busy. Germans came with Jake "wheeling" for a second term . . . great parties as usual . . . and the same mornings after . . . also "cool fish sandwiches."

Cottage number one comes down and Beta Bar goes up. After a few months of work and planning, we finally got our "bar in the back" and hoped the coeds might join us soon.

Came the spring and the centennial. Eta had been here for one hundred years . . . and some of us felt as if we had too. A great week-end for us and the alumni . . . but, oh! how it cost. After celebrating, we had the more serious side. Initiation for some . . . but departure for many. Great to have new brothers, but we hate to see the old ones go. There'll be football games next fall, though, and newly established alumni will be back.

Delta Kappa Epsilon

Beta of DKE began its second hundred years last April 6th, with a big centennial celebration and much of Eddie's punch. A strong alumni meeting and the incorporation of DKE sets us up for the years to come.

Summer with Wrightsville and Buck Forest helped us to forget academics . . . Hoagy on Caesar's Head? The Huskes turned on a great exhibition of Southern hospitality in Fayetteville as we welcomed the NROTC salts back from the cruise. The Deb Ball was the scene of an unforgettable reunion before all the brothers gathered to re-do the house.

Clem's Bar-B-Que (!!) provided a solid base for the State game as we entered another fall and rousing football season. It was good to watch the alumni gather together and enjoy the house again. A week's hectic rushing resulted in the addition of fifteen fine pledges. Welcome Neophytes! The South Carolina game was a victory for Carolina, but at the American Legion Hut such songs as "Hey, Good Lookin'" and "When Those Saints," went down in total defeat at Maryland, the troops staged a swimming meet in the Potomac under the austere eye of Thomas Jefferson. The Mayflower and The Statler were our headquarters with a flower pot for "look."

A great intramural football team suffered a severe headache—especially to Hod and Huske. We're glad to have two DKE pinups belonging to Haland Shenck. Tench Coxe seems to be permanently attached to the U. S. Army!

This year our local student government ranks are strengthened by such politicians as Gorham, Hazellhurst, Daniels, and Pillsbury. Athletically, "Chic" and Woolcott take to the cinders. Kent turns merman, Hill, Stokes, Wilson, "Banjo," and "No C" grapple. "Beet" turns in his steady tennis game while Lawrence makes like Burt Lancaster on the high bar.

Kappa Sigma

We started off the year in great style . . . only a few of us have fallen into the hands of the University so far . . . Spooks is leading the opposition . . . Bruton gives "Charlie" some rough treatment . . . Fearless Freddie is the peerless pledge master . . . Take notice Goley, Holbrook, Sundown, Spooks, Kudi, Herbie Schlitz, Grassy, and Toodus! beware of those "Angel Feathers" . . . Two-Gun gets the hots for Babs in D. C. . . . Sugg, Tyndall, and Lightning add their smiling faces . . . Lackey pinches his pennies—ours too . . . Low-Low keeps us fat and sassy—sassy anyway . . . "Old Shep" Eller, the Junior Bird Man . . . Daddy George represents us in Chicago . . . Grassy comes home . . . T.D and Sid, the Be-Bop boys . . . Penegar is still the big wheel . . . "Be Happy, Go Lucky" . . . Kudi finally graduates . . . Perry and Olsen—Big Men On the Campus . . . We wonder how Dudas, Van, Horse, Chubby, Psycho, Hardison, McCrary, Shaky, Ollie, Marshall, and Urie like being wards of Uncle Sam? . . . Purser becomes a wit . . . Holbrook, Goley, and Ryan turn into "Sazerac," "Antigo," and "To-Bed-We-Go" somewhere in the District . . . Griswold gets on his back—wrestling . . . We hope Dameron doesn't . . . Brillo is our young man about the house . . . Spider, Stag . . . spliced . . . Scott, have you got any superlatives? . . . Our own Big Sinatra Woosley . . . Those three "lucky to be at U.N.C." boys from Davidson, Shorty, Herbie, and Jones . . . Toodus make a fortune off of Fur-Burgers . . . Ken is our noted politico, philosopher, and handy-man about the campus . . . We're glad to see Langley and sawyer back into the fold . . . When Stoughton wants to go somewhere—he goes . . . Harper and Kane are the leaders of the new pledge class . . . "All right, hold it down" Dortch cracks the whip . . . Bristol, the Mad Lover, is bark . . . Cowan turns into a science-fiction fanatic . . . Clem keeps track off our names and minutes . . . Mosier does or dies for Coach Scott . . . Congratulations to John, Alban, Harold, Davey, Sam Donnell, Sam Emory, Bobby Hook, Ronnie, Caleb, Walt, Ruben, Dick, Emmett, Bobby Noble, Nick, and Charlie: you made awise choice in pledging to Alpha-Mu of Kappa Sigma.

Phi Delta Theta

In spite of last year's call to the draft, the alumni room is still singularly full of old soldiers. "Old Crow" poured himself around liberally and the rest of the menagerie bayed closely at his tail-feathers. The files of the Flounders increased with the incoming pledge class—the Jockey Club established itself firmly. All troopers still battling with the General College.

The Georgia week-end managed to lose itself and several of the brothers. Other football tilts were tippled in much the same fashion. "Balls" and "Main-Line" back in action after a brief spell in Yankee rest camps. While some joined the "Fun - Group," others worked and a few scholars were produced — not many. Thanksgiving and Christmas gave us a break academically, but Winter Quarter saw both officers and enlisted men back among those cold, grey halls. Bowery Ball loses more brothers—the Pledge Dance climaxed pledgeship of terrific wildmen. "Baby Art" rejuvenates house with The Friemuth Fifty Year Plan.

"Au printemps" — beach time again — all brothers go ahead on at "flank" speed. Some trade pins for fatal ladies—no bad deal. June finds many preparing to leave—all regretfully. Graduation marks another good year in the annals of N. C. Beta of Phi Delta Theta.

Sigma Chi

Alpha Tau Chapter of Sigma Chi was established at the University of North Carolina in 1889 and has gained the position of the most versatile fraternity on our campus today—inter-collegiate athletics — intramurals — student activities — socials. In intramurals Alpha Tau has claimed the cup for the last two out of three years and is proud of its intercollegiate athlete brothers Skeet Hesmer, Eddie Foy, Donnie Evans, Bob Bell, and many others. The brothers of Alpha Tau join in many student activities, one of which is politics. Last year there were five in the legislature, we had the president of the freshman class, the president of the IDC, a member of the elections board and so on. Alpha Tau has gained the enthusiasm and hearts of all the students through its singing. The chorus has won the Valkyrie Cup four times out of the past five years. The climax of the school year is the Sigma Chi Derby and Sweetheart Ball, at which the Sigs claim a certain girl with their admiration and respect—The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

And those Sig Eps keep rolling along! President Owen and "Head" returned from Richmond with tales of a great, fiftieth anniversary conclave. And everybody returned with new spirit—fresh paint, new furniture, and hard-working brothers and pledges everywhere. A fine pledge class . . . and fine parties, every week-end . . . well, almost every . . .

Uss "the Terrible" shouted "Roll Call" all year and the brotherhood trembled. "Suicide" Coward kept the Marine Corps in line and "Riviera" Rohe explained the "Folies Bergere" in detail . . . Mize and Mattox came up with some really enchanting songs . . .

Our annual Sig Ep Ball in the spring was the greatest, in a long line of great ones . . . and Charlie's Day at Hogan's left nothing to be desired (except victory over the brothers from Wake Forest, State, and Duke). It was a year of real fun, work, and accomplishment. Look out, '52!

Zeta Psi

Through the generous support of our alumni, it has been possible for us to salvage our house from the termites and to have it completely remodeled. It is reported that the termites, rodents, and other fraternity houseverous creatures have given their solemn pledge to move to the Big Fraternity Court by the first of the year (1952), where, we understand, they made hotel reservations. Orchids to you, creatures!

It is our understanding that the Zeta Psi Educational Award went this year to Howard Stranberg, Jr. of Rocky Mount. Gold watches to you "Stran" boy!

Several pre-game Bar-B-Ques have been had at the house, it is said, and, it is reported, that these festive feasts were followed shortly by not-too-successful grid-iron contests. In intramurals, however, we are attempting to retain possession of the intramural trophy. It is reported that only several hundred wins are necessary for its permanent retention.

As the school year wanes and we eagerly look forward to another lost vacation, our eyes glance furtively over our shoulders to catch a parting view of our campus casa. The light fades but we can still discern the glow of the midnight oil through the heer-stained window panes of our college casba. As the mild spring wind carelessly blows whiskey labels over Spring's green carpet, our ears catch the rattle of cards, the tinkle of glass, and the soft, low murmur of . . . "cocktail hour."

The 1952 Yackety Yack Beauty Court

Returning to a procedure discontinued since 1948, the 1952 Yackety Yack Beauty Court and Queen were selected in Chapel Hill by local judges. With Mr. Norman Cordon emceeing the show, Judges Foster Fitz-Simons, James Street and Harry Davis selected from sixty-two contestants Miss Sally Trowbridge of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, as queen, accompanied by a court of fourteen. The winners were announced and given orchid corsages on November 15 in Memorial Hall. With the co-operation of the Order of the Grail, the queen and court were presented at the final dance of the Grail, held in Woolen Gymnasium on November 17th.

The staff of the 1952 Yackety Yack wishes to express its grateful appreciation to those who made the contest possible: Mr. Norman Cordon for his interest and most helpful assistance; Mr. Laverne Johnson for his suggestions and encouragement; Messrs. Fitz-Simons, Street, and Davis for their generous co-operation; The Carolina Beauty Shop for the hair stylings of Misses Carman Nahm, Katherine Hester, and Virginia Wilson; The Carolina Sport Shop for lending records; Mr. Harry Davis of the University Florist; Mr. Earl Wynn and Miss Silva; Mr. Ray Jeffries; the famed UNC world traveler Barry Farber; the backstage help—Wisner Washam and Glenn Baughman on lights, Tom Carroll on music, Joan King; staff members Tom McDonald and Helen Kelly, and especially Bob Colbert, who managed excellently the details of the contest.

Portraits of the Queen and Court are by Francis Laverne Johnson of Chapel Hill.

German Club

The German Club, which is composed of members of thirteen social fraternities on campus, sponsors three big dance week-ends each year, bringing name bands to Carolina. Under the efficient direction of Jake Froelich, serving his second term as president of the Executive Board, the 1951-1952 dances were acclaimed highly successful.

Fraternities composing the German Club are: Kappa Sigma, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Zeta Psi, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Delta Psi, and Pi Kappa Alpha.

German Club

The German Club claimed the Tennessee Week-end as their first big social function of the year. Something new was initiated. Instead of having dances on both Friday and Saturday nights, only the dance on Friday night, November 2, was held. On Friday afternoon at four o'clock the festivities began with the concert held by Johnny Long and his Orchestra. Memorial Hall rocked with the welcoming notes of "In a Shanty in Old Shantytown" and "Way Up in North Carolina." Long, a native North Carolinian and graduate of Duke University, appeared for the first time on the Carolina campus at the request of many students. The genial "south-paw" violinist, aided by his attractive vocalist-wife, Pat, were exceptionally well received. His joint appearance with Kay Kayser on Friday evening at the pep rally at 8:00 P. M. in Memorial Hall also caused one of the largest student turn-outs of the year. The smooth dance tempo orchestrations of Long, plus the traditional and charming figure formed by the German Club Executive Board and their dates before the intermission, made the 9:00 P. M. to 1:00 A. M. dance in Woolen Gymnasium a most successful climax to this first "Reader's Digest" Fall Germans.

However, the old custom of having dances both Friday and Saturday nights was re-established for the peak of the middle quarter social season, when Ray Anthony, who played for the German Club in 1951, returned here for Mid-winters on February 22 and 23. Anthony, with his reputation as the "Young Man With a Horn" and his opinion that a band must do "more than just play music," provided crisp, precise numbers for the Carolina gentlemen and their dates. His versatile music—ranging from jazz and swing to novelties and sweet ballads—along with the Anthony brand of showmanship ("The Saints Come Marching In") made his return performance as enjoyable as his first.

Spring Finals, which were held on May 10, were as successful as ever, and were the finishing touch to the pahtying Germans social functions.

Chairman

University Dance Committee

The University Dance Committee has as its foremost objectives the role of host at Carolina dances and the task of maintaining order at social functions sponsored by campus organizations. This group of students, familiar in their formal dress with blue and white rosettes in their lapels, in their careful vigilance of campus dances are striving toward making Carolina dances the functions that both students and faculty desire. During the 1951-1952 season the Committee has effectively performed its duty. Headed this year by Steve Perrow, Chairman, the group has had a most successful year, both in helping to put on Carolina dances and guiding them toward perfection.
